Each and every camper is greeted by Mike Huber who began his life at Casowasco many years ago as a camper. Now director of the site and coordinator for the Camps, Conferences & Retreat Ministries for the North Central New York Conference, Mike oversees a program that will welcome nearly 2,500 campers at the two sites — Aldersgate and Casowasco. At Casowasco, Kari and Ethan Huber are also known to all of the campers, as are the Shroyer family — Mike, Ami and J. Michael — who are making their home for the summer at Casowasco. You can read more about all the people at both sites in the next issue of Connections — and maybe I'd better get started on some writing for that. It has been a great two weeks here, and I thank everyone who makes it possible for me to counsel at this wonderful place, a place where I see lives being changed each and every day. See you soon back in Cicero,

Sharon
